I'm building a big list of upcoming scam-busting / knock-off episodes, haha. I've received some great suggestions from you guys. The 3 I'm working on right now are: Cardieo smart watch, RangeXTD, and an iPhone 12 Pro Max clone, named "i12 Pro Max." Everything looks really bad, and I'm excited to make episodes about them! I have other tech episodes coming soon too (especially regarding the new iPhone 12 Pro Max). Thanks for watching, and stay tuned...

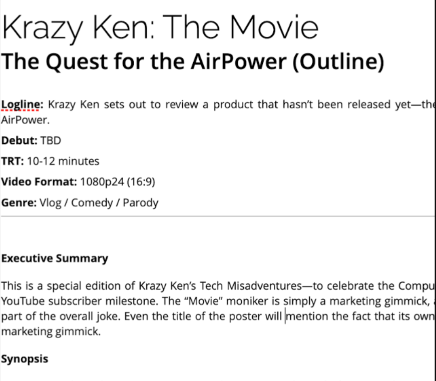
Apple OFFICIALLY KILLS #AirPower. Dang. So I guess this Krazy Ken Movie idea (see picture) won't work after all. (This was a real screenplay being worked on, but I never went through with it. Now I guess I don't have to, hahaha) —Ken



Krazy Ken: The Movie

The Quest for the AirPower (Outline)

Logline: Krazy Ken sets out to review a product that hasn't been released yet—the AirPower.

Debut: TBD

TRT: 10-12 minutes

Video Format: 1080p24 (16:9)

Genre: Vlog / Comedy / Parody

Executive Summary

This is a special edition of Krazy Ken's Tech Misadventures—to celebrate the Compu
YouTube subscriber milestone. The "Movie" moniker is simply a marketing gimmick, part of the overall joke. Even the title of the poster will mention the fact that its own marketing gimmick.

Synopsis

Krazy Ken makes it his quest to review Apple's AirPower device before any other You

It's almost time!
I will be hosting a tech talk and Q&A live stream on New Year's Eve (Dec 31) at 8:00 PM CST (UTC-6). I'll be joined by my alter ego, Krazy Ken (he goes with me everywhere!). I can't wait to see you there! It'll be a fun night. —Ken

On THURSDAY...
You and Krazy Ken will be time traveling to 1988 and see what it was like to work in PhotoShop 0.63 Beta—running on a 68K Mac with 8 MB of RAM.

Catch the crazy, and pass it on...

POLL: What do you think about this?

I want to do a special edition of Krazy Ken's Tech Misadventures for a 100,000 subscriber special. It will be scripted, and focused on comedy and tech. Would you like to see this made (even if it delays other long-term projects like Vintage Apple Vault volume 2)??

Behold… one of the more rare Apple Macintosh computers ever sold.

Ken's been wanting this in his collection for years, but he didn't dare take it for a test drive until you were watching. It's all captured on video for you.

Watch the new episode on THURSDAY…

What could be better than one Krazy Ken episode this week?
How about TWO episodes??? One on Tuesday, and one on Thursday!

Stay tuned. Ken has been wanting to make Thursday's episode for many years. It's finally gonna happen…

Here is what to expect tomorrow:
Krazy Ken is gonna get artsy with some 68K software. Will the Macintosh IIci be able to handle it???

And later...
We'll be changing gears with some Windows 10 + custom PC content coming soon. Small delay on this one, so I don't have a date yet. Stay tuned...

It feels good to FINALLY use my new Blue mic for a TidBytes demo. This next video is all about the new features in Final Cut Pro X 10.4.4. The demo will be out soon…

P.S. we'll have TWO new videos this week. I'm aiming for Monday and Friday (due to US Thanksgiving on Thursday).

u should try CloudReady on one of these. You can basically use a normal PC as a Chromebook (granted it's Chromium, not Chrome, s ere are a few differences) and once it's running you can add support for flash and a couple other proprietary things in settings.
